

WHEN DESIGN MEETS ARCHITECTURE

William Morris, who contributed so much to the revival of the traditional British textile arts commented, “Have nothing in your house that you do not know to be useful, or believe to be beautiful”. OS Designs places this at the heart of their work philosophy.

Oz Lancaster (RIBA affiliate and BIID member), is a highly creative and dynamic interior architect with more than a decade’s experience of the international interior design industry and her vision has been the driving force behind success of her company OS Designs. She has an in-depth understanding of global cultures and trends due to the company’s offices in Cyprus and Central London. The expertise of the company has successfully created both commercial and residential designs not only in London, but across the continent and especially in the Middle East. The additional qualification in furniture design has been appreciated by clients wanting bespoke solutions in their homes and offices where the exciting and innovative exterior and interior designs created by her team are revitalising the market place.

OS Designs carefully manage each project from beginning to end. They have expertise in architectural design, interior design, space planning and project management, offering a complete design service and project management throughout, to create timeless iconic places to live.

By offering this turn key service, they take their clients on a journey from start to finish, working with them to establish their client’s wishes and evolving them to accomplish schemes to exceed the client’s expectations. From designing mood boards through to running the sites, they can be as involved in a project as much as the client requires. Their most recent project demonstrated their skill of managing a four year project of a complete interior restoration and of creating an ambassadorial home in a 12,000 sq ft Grade II listed property in Central London. Apart from the restoration, the company sourced artwork, antiques and the finest furnishings worthy of a building of this calibre.

OS Designs are well placed to interpret a clients wishes and dreams whatever the size and complexity of the project.
